

More information related to the two computer monitors mounted in the licensed club.

Your Social Committee has installed two monitors in the licensed Club area which connect to a remote computer.

The screensaver is the ECBS, a unique interactive weather program developed at the instigation of our meteorology committee.

This enables members to have constant access to current weather and weather warnings.

The displays are easily seen by members and guests, however access to the interactive facility is restricted to members.

The keyboard and mouse may be obtained from the bar by deposit of your membership card, to be retrieved when the computer equipment is returned to the bar.

This equipment will enable ready access to NCYC relevant data such as sailing results and newsletters, and associated web sites. It will also facilitate access to linked club websites to look up yacht tracker programs for major races, and sailing results of our own and outside regattas and events among other features.
